All Hail the Power of Money

William Jennings Bryan is being subjected to severe criticism for continuing the montebank career of appearing at chautauquas for a certain consideration said to be something like $500 per diem. In palliation of, the offense which lowered the dignity of the cabinet officer and lent a ridiculous aspect to the important foreign branch of the service Mr. Bryan explained that he could not live on the salary of a cabinet officer and had to seek other means of earning a livelihood. Williams Jennings always had a reputation as a money maker. He never falled to commercialize his political opinions and was always ready to mount the rostrum at any old fair or gathering which succeeded in raising funds to meet his views as to the exigency of the occasion. In fact the grasping habits of Mr. Bryan have become such a stereotyped subject with the catoonists that they never weary of picturing him as a charlatan dealing out palliative doses of political pabulum to all applicants. He has always been gifted with the itching palm like the mendicants of Egypt to whom he devoted an entire letter during his famous trip around the world. But it was not always so-in theory at least. There was a time when Mr. Bryan posed as a public spirited citizen. For instance in a speech delivered at a banquet given by the People Lobby at Newark N. J., May 5, 1907, he advocated self sacrifice for the betterment of the country in the following words.

I regard it as a splendid sign that men of independent means, men who have no fear for themselves or their positions, are beginning to recognize that there is something in this world more im portant than the making of money, and that these men are beginning to give those questions the benefit of their business experience and of their brains. In the last few years I have been gratified beyond measure to have men come to me and tell me of their cinterest in these reforms, altruistic interest, if you please, unselfish interest; men not seeking public office; men asking for nothing in the way of favors from the government, but men who recognize that the government must be better than it has been if we are to leave the legacy we ought to leave our children.

Such is the tehory of a statesman who paltered with a Jap and who is kowtowing to Mexico.

Unfit for Citizenship

The superintendent of schools in Snohomish county, Washington, has refused to approve the appointment of a principal in one of the county schools because of the unpatriotic utterances of the appointee,

The would-be principal of an American public school is the secretary of the state educational bureau maintained by the socialist party in Washington.

Recently he circulated among the children of the state a paper denouncing a state law prescribing the observance of simple flag exercises in the public schools.

Those exercises involved concert recital by the school children of the following pledge:

"I pledge allegiance to my flag and to the republic for which it stands. One nation indivisible, with liberty and Justice for all."

The man who sought to enter the service of American citizens, to take their dollars, denounced this pledge as "stuff," the law pescribing it and the teachers charged with its enforcement as "capitaliste."

He has appealed to the state superintendent of public instruction to overrule the decision of the sturdy county superintendent, who says he is unfit to be intrusted with the education of American children.

Any man who does not love the American flag for what it represents as he loves his life and his family is unfit for American citizenship, much less for contact with American children.

It is to be hoped that the state superintendent will sustain the decision of the county superintendent and that a vigorous effort will be made to punish this man for his reditious teachings by revocation of his citizenship, if it be citizenship by naturalization.

Extortionate Freight Rates

Recently the Bonanza received from a pottery at Sebring, Ohio, a shipment of dishes intended for premiums for subscribers and it was expected that the freight rate would reach certain high figures but the enormity of the charges were not understood until the freight bill showed the charges amounted to $4.30 a hundred. If the goods had been shipped to San Francisco 350 miles further the cost of hauling would have been only $1.50 per hundred. The difference is the penalty paid for living on the desert. The mere matter of hauling does not seem to have any application. To deliver these goods in San Francisco it would have entailed a longer haul including a climb over the Sierras. When a protest was lodged with the pottery manufacturers they answered that they had taken the matter up with the Western association and were informed

Kidney disease often advances s rapidly that many a person is firmly in its grasp before aware of its progress. Prompt attention should be given the slightest sympton of kidney disorder. If there is a dull pain in the back, headaches, dizzy spells or a tired, worn out feeling, or if the kidney secretions are offensive, irregular and attended with pain, procure a good kidney remedy at once.

Thousands recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. Read the statement below. James O'Nell, Hazen, Nev., says: For five years I had more or less trouble from weak kidneys. I suffered terribly from my back. At times it was almost impossible for me to stoop over or bend my body in any position on account of sharp, shooting pains in my loins. The kidney secretions passed too frequently. One of my fellow workmen had used Doan's Kidney Pills with good results, and he told me to try them. I got two boxes and after I had used about half a box, I found that they were helping me. Two boxes completely cured me."
